Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Saturday 02 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold. Sunny in the west, showers in the east.

Today:
Dry cold and sunny for many. Cloudier across the northeast, the Borders and occasionally the far north with scattered showers. These wintery across high ground, and occasionally to low levels in the north. Occasionally fresh northerly winds in the east.

Tonight:
Largely clear skies in the west with light winds leading to a cold night with a widespread sharp frost. Cloudier in the east with showers continuing, mainly across the northeast.

Sunday:
Cold dry and sunny in the west. Mostly cloudy in the east with frequent often heavy showers, wintery on high ground.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Remaining cold. Dry for most with sunny spells, light winds and sharp overnight frosts. Occasional wintery showers in the east, perhaps more persistent rain in the northwest later Wednesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.